⚠ TRACK VARIANCE WARNING — READ BEFORE JUDGING THIS CARD

Since its repave, Atlanta races like a mini-superspeedway: pack drafting, constant lead changes, and mass wrecks. 38 cars have DNF'd across the last four races here, and 47.5% of recent wins came from outside the top-5 starting spots. The betting favorite is only ~10% to win. Expect a low hit rate by design — this card leans on finishing-position markets and spreads small stakes across a basket of drafting specialists rather than trusting any single outcome.

OUTRIGHT WINNER BOARD (COVERS / VSIN CONSENSUS)

Ryan Blaney (pole)	+900	Tyler Reddick	+1150
Chase Elliott (def. winner)	+1150	Denny Hamlin	+1329
William Byron	+1567	Christopher Bell	+1567
Brad Keselowski	+1800	Joey Logano (P2)	+1567
Carson Hocevar	+1567	Kyle Larson (P3)	+1900

WHERE THE EDGES ARE

BLANEY H2H OVER BYRON · THE ANCHOR

HEAD-TO-HEAD MATCHUP · -113

- ▶ Blaney: 7 top-10s in his last 8 Atlanta starts
- ▶ Crash math: 1 wreck in 16 starts vs Byron's 4 in 14
- ▶ H2H only needs Blaney to beat one car — survives the chaos better than any outright
- ▶ Note: CBS's model fades Blaney to WIN; irrelevant here — he only has to out-finish Byron

Est. win: 58% vs 53% market — the safest structure available at this track

SUÁREZ TOP-5 · THE TRACK SPECIALIST

FINISHING POSITION PROP · +456

- ▶ Top-5 finishes in 4 of his last 6 Atlanta races
- ▶ Drafting-track specialist profile; style fits the pack racing
- ▶ +456 implies just 18% — his own track record says it hits far more often

Est. win: 24% vs 18% market — biggest percentage edge on the card

THE WINNER BASKET · 4 SMALL STABS

ELLIOTT · HOCEVAR · KESELOWSKI · REDDICK

- ▶ Elliott +1150: defending winner of this race, Georgia native, Chevy (4 of last 5 wins)
- ▶ Hocevar +1567: three straight top-10s here, best young drafter in the field
- ▶ Keselowski +1800: 2 career Atlanta wins, 6 top-3s; CBS model's top call, RFK trending
- ▶ Reddick +1150: FOX's "hot hand" pick — but Toyota sacrificed qualifying for race trim

~33% that one of the four wins — mutually exclusive by design; one cashing pays for the whole basket

LARSON +1900 · THE LONGSHOT

OUTRIGHT WINNER · P3 START

- ▶ Best pure driver in the series priced at his longest odds of the year
- ▶ Hendrick Chevy in a Chevy-dominant race; starts on row 2
- ▶ Atlanta's draft neutralizes talent — which is exactly why the price got this long

Est. win: 5% — the mandatory longshot, sized accordingly

★ THE CARD · EST. WIN % IS OUR JUDGMENT VS DE-VIGGED MARKET %

PICK	ODDS	STAKE	EST. WIN	TO WIN	TYPE
1 · Blaney beats Byron (H2H) Finishing-position matchup · survives the wrecks best	-113	$300	58% mkt 53%	+$265.49	SAFE
2 · Daniel Suárez Top-5 Top-5 in 4 of last 6 Atlanta trips	+456	$200	24% mkt 18%	+$912.00	VALUE
3 · Chase Elliott to Win Defending race winner · home state · Chevy	+1150	$150	10% mkt 8%	+$1,725.00	BASKET
4 · Carson Hocevar to Win 3 straight Atlanta top-10s · elite in the draft	+1567	$120	8% mkt 6%	+$1,880.40	BASKET
5 · Brad Keselowski to Win 2 Atlanta wins, 6 top-3s · CBS model's top pick	+1800	$100	7% mkt 5%	+$1,800.00	BASKET
6 · Tyler Reddick to Win Drafting ace, but Toyota gambled setup on race trim	+1150	$90	8% mkt 8%	+$1,035.00	BASKET
7 · 🏆 Kyle Larson to Win The mandatory longshot — best driver, longest fair price	+1900	$40	5% mkt 5%	+$760.00	LONGSHOT

Portfolio note. Bets 3–7 are five different drivers to win the same race — at most ONE can cash, by design. Together they cover an estimated ~38% of the win market for $500; any single winner from the basket pays for the entire card.

Best case (+$2,678): Blaney out-finishes Byron, Suárez top-5, and Hocevar wins the race. Realistic good day (+$400 to +$900): the H2H and Suárez hit plus one mid-basket winner. Worst case (–$1,000): the Big One collects our whole basket. Expected hits: ~1.2 of 7 — normal for this track type; the payouts, not the hit rate, carry the card.
